2017-01-28 01:00 by Victoria Singh

138 young people were given a chance to try various creative activities at the Kota Art Gallery on Saturday, 28th January. Many of them do not attend regular school and could barely write their names, while some came after school, and did stone art, mandana, block printing, carrier bag making and painting.

Thanks to Elizabeth Simson, Bharti Gaur, Kavita Parihar and various students for organising the activities.

10 Paintings will be given to the J.K. Lon Hospital to cheer-up the patients, their families and the staff.
